Biography

As Chief Financial Officer, Tom Diemer leads Trimont's global finance team responsible for financial reporting, treasury, tax, financial planning and analysis, investor reporting and balance sheet management. His strategic oversight is instrumental in maintaining the firm's financial health and ensuring the implementation of robust strategies that support Trimont's growth and profitability.

Tom serves on the firm's Executive Management, Compensation, 401K, Investment and Risk committees, contributing his expertise to key decision-making processes across the organization.

Tom joined Trimont in 2026, bringing more than 30 years of experience covering finance, accounting, risk management, operations, asset management, and leadership development. Prior to Trimont, he served a number of roles, including CFO and CRO, at Security Benefit, where he oversaw the finance, risk, and cybersecurity functions for a rapidly expanding privately-owned life and annuity company.

Previous to Security Benefit, Tom was CFO - Retail Solutions at Lincoln Financial Group, where he was a catalyst for designing and implementing new finance and data operating models and enhancing risk management practices and governance. From 2015-2022, he served as CFO at AIG/Corebridge Financial for the life and retirement businesses, overseeing a global finance team of more than 400 professionals. At AIG, Tom led the execution of several significant transactions with private equity investors and was an instrumental leader in preparing for Corebridge's IPO in 2022. He served as AIG's Chief Risk Officer for Life and Retirement from 2013-2015. Tom's early experience includes financial leadership positions at Prudential Financial and Merrill Lynch, after starting his career at PwC.
